

Getting to GHCC & the Adult Learning Center During Charles Street Construction

Due to the upcoming construction taking place over the next two years, directions and parking have become more complicated.

GHCC main offices are located at 3503 North Charles Street. The Adult Learning Center is located next door at the University Baptist Church, 3501 North Charles Street. Our buildings are just east of the Johns Hopkins University Homewood campus, at the intersection of Charles Street and Greenway.

Traffic will have limited and often restricted access to Charles. To get to us, we suggest one of the following routes.

By Car

- From I-83, take the 28th Street exit east to Calvert Street.
- Turn left on Calvert Street and proceed north to University Parkway.
- Turn left on University Parkway.
- Make the first left onto Saint Paul Street and bear right immediately onto Greenway.
- The back of 3503 N. Charles and the University Baptist Church are on your right, across the parking lot.

Parking

- Two-hour parking is available on Greenway.
- Metered parking is available on University Parkway and St. Paul Street.
- Free parking is available on St. Paul Street above University Parkway, on both sides of the street.

By Bus

- Route #3: Travels north on Calvert to 33rd Street and turns right. Get off at 33rd, and walk west to Charles Street, turn right, and proceed north two blocks.
- Route #22: Travels east-west along University Parkway. Get off at Charles & University and travel one block south on Charles Street to #3503.
- Route #61: Travels south on St. Paul Street and north on Calvert Street. Get off at St. Paul & Greenway and cross the church parking lot. OR, travel north on Calvert and get off in front of the building before University Parkway.

Updates are available through the following link: <http://www.charlesstreetreconstruction.com/>.